CNN Why is Family Guy Playing Above CNN's Magic Wall on Election Night?

By Erica Ho, 11:15 PM on Tue Nov 4 2008, 88,230 views

If you are like most Americans tonight, you are probably tuned in to CNN, analyzing everything you see—even those television screens about the Magic Wall. And if you're looking over the wall, you might catch Family Guy running on screens above all that red and blue. It wouldn't be the first time we'd catch these guys goofing off during politics. I wonder if this episode is the one where Peter becomes the president of his own nation? If so, it's certainly fitting. [Thanks Joe!]

Did anybody catch Toobin doing anything? – Jason
